Customs & Global Trade Deloitte Germany

Who we are

We are a team of customs experts that deals with all matters concerning global trade.

Every single member of our team has a different work history based on a customs, law and/or economic background.

Overall more than ten customs experts work in the German Customs & Global Trade team.

Additional to our German Customs & Global Trade team we offer the customs knowledge of our European Customs Practice as well as worldwide network of customs experts to our clients.

In our opinion a team with members that have a different work history achieves the best results.

Our services

Our team structure allows us to accompany your processes from the planning to the final implementation of a process, to represent your legal interests in front of the authorities best possible or, if necessary, also in front of a tribunal.

Our advisory approach is based on accompanying our clients in all customs and excise tax matters along the complete supply chain.

We are specialized in:

Import	Transit	Export	Excise Tax	Market Organization	Prohibitions and restrictions in cross-border transactions
Customs classification	Transit	ATLAS/AES	EMCS	Import	Public policy
Customs Value	Tax Warehouse	Export control	Energy Tax	Export refund	Public health
Import VAT			Electricity Tax	Temporary importation	Animal environment
Origin			Tobacco Tax	Sugar market organization	Flora
Preferential Origin			Spirit Tax	Quota regulations for milk industry	Industrial property protection
Customs procedures			Coffee Tax		Cultural property protection
AEO			Alkopop Tax		Environmental protection
Antidumping			Beer Tax		REACH
Import duty refund			Sparkling wine and intermediate product Tax

Interdisciplinary collaboration

Customs, foreign trade and excise taxes are often just one part of a process that actually affects many other issues. At these contact points an interdisciplinary collaboration with specialists that focus on other matters is essential.

Our firm structure allows us to collaborate with colleagues/specialists in:

- All kind of taxes
- IT consulting and implementation
- M&A
- Transfer pricing
- Risk management
- Supply chain management

We offer an all-in-one solution!

Ready to help!

After a first analysis of your business processes and company situation we offer an all-in-one solution based on your special business requirements.

We offer high quality statements, implementation and documentation of new processes and customs procedures as well as representation of your interest according to appeal procedures, both outside and inside the court.

Complex situations and businesses can be structured and described by us in an easy and comprehensible way, ensuring your business and processes for the future. At the same time we consider your products, your flow of commodity, your internal business organization and all characteristics of countries that are involved in your business.

A further benefit for your company is the close collaboration with our colleagues that work for the SAP Global Trade System (GTS-) team. Additionally we offer a large number of other self-developed IT solutions that may help to optimize your Customs IT-environment.

Our goal is your success!
